PREFACE.

THIS Catalogue contains the titles of all the printed music belonging to the British Museum to the close of the eighteenth century (December, 1800).

The date chosen for the limit of the work is that generally accepted as marking the division between the earlier and the modern schools of music. It has the additional advantage of excluding the vast mass of music of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, a separate Catalogue of which, consisting at the present time of 343 volumes (partly transcribed and partly printed), is placed in the Reading Room.

The system adopted in that Catalogue, the compilation of which was begun by the late Thomas Oliphant in the year 1841, has been adhered to in the present work in order that the entries in the two catalogues may be uniform in form and arrangement. The entries in this work are, however, no mere reprints of those in the General Catalogue of Music. Each volume or piece has been examined, and in the majority of instances recatalogued, while, in the case of rare and valuable works, the descriptions have been more fully and accurately set forth. The titles of the numerous pieces of music issued in periodicals, both British and foreign, of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, have been included in this Catalogue. The greater part of these will be found in the main body of the work, the remainder are inserted in the Supplement.

An unfortunate custom of omitting to date printed music has prevailed among music publishers both in Great Britain and in other countries since about the beginning of the eighteenth century. It is consequently impossible to date the music of this period with absolute accuracy, and it is not improbable that a few of the works here described may have appeared after the year 1800, while others which were issued before the close of that year may be omitted. For the same reason the dates assigned tentatively in brackets are in many cases liable to revision, although every care has been taken to supply the correct date of each book or separate piece of music. In the case of foreign publications the dates assigned are as a rule even more uncertain than those of music printed by English publishers, as to whom much information has been collected by Mr. Frank Kidson and others.

A supplement has been added to Volume II. of this work. It contains all the music printed before the close of the eighteenth century which has been acquired during the course of printing the present Catalogue. It is proposed to publish similar supplements from time to time in future.

The Catalogue is the work of Mr. W. Barclay Squire, Assistant in charge of the collections of Printed Music in the British Museum.

K. 10. b. 13.

The imprint of Vol. II. is "Printed for C. Corbett." This copy is of the first edition, and contains the List of Subscribers. In this edition the figures in the Bass of bars 1 & 2 of fol. 88 (Vol. I.) are wanting; fol. 14 (Vol. II.) is attributed to Handel, instead of to Porpora, and no composer's name is given to fol. 86 (Vol. II.). Imperfect, wanting four preliminary (separately paged) leaves at the beginning of Vol. I.; fol. 16 and 49 of Vol. I.; and fol. 5, 19, 25-28, 45-48 of Vol. II. The composers named are: Turner, Greene, Leveridge, Vanburgh, Handel, Monro, Gunn, Gladwin, Boyee, Carey, Putti, Popely, Corelli, Holcombe, Lampe, Stanley, Howard, Purcell, J. Hudson, M. C. Festing, R. Vincent, Young, A. Neale, C. Vincent, Arne, J. C. Smith, Wichello, Biondoracellini, Pepusch, W. Fisher, Gouge, T. Phillips, King and Hayden.

The Musical Entertainer, etc. 2 Vols. Printed for ... Charles Corbett: London, [1740.] fol.

K. 10. b. 12.

This is a copy of the second edition, probably that advertised in the London Daily Post and General Advertiser of July 26, 1740, as being just completed and carefully corrected with a thorough bass to each song by J. F. Lampe. In this edition the name of Porpora is substituted on fol. 14 of Vol. II. for that of Handel.
